

Order of Defense Ceremony

The candidate and their entourage should assemble at the back of court.

Herald: Throughout history there have been men and women who excelled in the use of myriad weapons and skills of the art of Defense, the Sword and Buckler, Case, Longsword, Dagger, Staff, Bill, Halberd, Falchion and Pike.

They stood the trials of their guild, rising from novice to journeyman, aspiring to the vaunted rank of a Master or Mistress of Defense.

In the 50th year of the Society, there was created the Order of Defense to recognize such men and women of great skill and perseverance, ‘well-tryed and sufficient with diverse weapons’,

In the Kingdom of the Outlands, a Master or Maestra of Defense shall be one who has demonstrated skill in the use of the rapier and/or cut-and-thrust combat, and in the study of the Art and Science of Defense, who is generous with their talents and knowledge, and who has dedicated their skills and efforts to benefit the Society and the Outlands, as befits a Peer of the Realm.

Let now all members of the Order of Defense come forward so that they may bear witness to this ceremony.

Members of the Order come forward and kneel, leaving a wide aisle.

Herald: The Crown now calls _____ to come before this Court and Company.

Escorting Herald: (Own words, or:) Your Majesties, Now before you comes _____ <FULL AWARDS AND TITLES> who bears the arms, to wit: <BLAZON>.

Candidate: I have.

Queen: Bring forth the Collar of the Order of Defense.

Throughout history, livery collars have been used to signify those belonging to great and noble Orders, so that members may remember always the vows that they have taken and that they may be recognized as members of their Order and seen to represent the high ideals to which they aspire . Thus, the Masters of Defense display their symbol on a white collar-symbolizing the purity of spirit with which they share their talents to all who would seek their guidance.

Let this collar pass from hand to hand among the members of the Order of Defense gathered here, to symbolize the bond you shall have with each of them,
